UNDERSTANDING OF SCOPE

The project is structured in stages: - Rebranding and customer Experience & RVI designing. It begins with research and benchmarking. Based on these insights, brand identity concepts for MNGL are developed and refined through client feedback. This leads to the creation of brand extensions, including communication templates, merchandise, and CNG retail outlet branding elements. The rebranding phase concludes with production-ready artworks and a comprehensive brand guideline to ensure consistent application across all touchpoints.

Then focuses on experience design, starting with an analysis of MNGL's customer journey and a comparison with competitors to guide spatial planning. Concept designs are developed to visualize customer experiences, highlight key zones, and integrate themed touchpoints at CNG stations. These are followed by detailed designs, including fit-outs and technical specifications to maintain design integrity. The final steps involve preparing a design manual tailored to different station types and providing implementation support through vendor coordination, material specification and onsite supervision.

The Project should broadly cover but not limited to the following items

The project will broadly focus on developing MNGL's Retail Visual Identity (RVI) across various touchpoints at CNG stations and customer service areas. This includes design elements for the canopy (such as false ceiling, lighting, fascia, column cladding etc.), bollards, trash bins, sales office and restroom facades, monoliths/totems, signage boards, and lighting structures. It also covers auxiliary units like tyre inflator sheds, drinking water stations, dispenser units and islands, safety signage, driveway paving, route markers, and kiosks for services like PUC, tyre puncture, and under-bonnet checks.

Customer experience areas such as lounges, quick bite zones, café kiosks, and detailed sales rooms are also part of the design scope. Branding will extend to DRS, MRS, DCS, LCV, HCV, LNG tankers, compressors, co-branding at OMC retail outlets etc. and city-based customer care offices or Shops. Uniform design will be standardized across all MNGL personnel, including fillers, technicians, drivers, CODO/DODO staff, CRM employees, contractual staff, and senior management.

The project will also align MNGL's CNG facilities with oil marketing company standards, ensuring consistency in dimensions, illumination, and overall visual identity across all RVI elements

STAGE 1 – RESEARCH & BENCHMARKING

The objective of this phase is to build a foundational understanding of the current CNG industry landscape. The Design Agency should conduct a secondary research study focused on benchmarking four leading brands in the sector. This involves identifying the top competitors, understanding their target audiences, outlining their product offerings and unique selling points, and analysing their brand identities, visual styles, and communication strategies. The outcome of this phase will be compiled into a Competitive Benchmarking Study document, summarizing all key findings from the research.

GAS LIMITED

Bid No.: MNGL/CP/2025-26/40

Building on insights from the previous phase, the goal is to develop a unique Brand Code for MNGL that will define its identity and guide the brand experience across all channels. This Brand Code will serve as the foundation for all future work, ensuring consistency and impact. Key activities include exploring brand territories, conducting a stakeholder workshop to align on vision, analysing data to define MNGL's positioning, and presenting the brand opportunity and code for final approval. The deliverables will include a comprehensive brand strategy presentation covering brand positioning, the core idea driving the brand, brand values, narrative, language for different markets, tone of voice, and align with corporate statements like mission and vision. Following this, the next step is to design and refine MNGL's brand identity and visual language, using the Brand Code to determine whether the approach should be evolutionary or revolutionary.

STAGE 2 – UNDERSTANDING CUSTOMER JOURNEY & SPACE

This phase involves mapping the user journey and identifying key touchpoints to enhance the overall experience with MNGL. It begins with understanding the brand, its products, and their unique characteristics. The process includes analysing user profiles, defining their experience journey, and pinpointing interaction points. Available client assets will be reviewed for content development, and brief narratives will be created for each touchpoint. Additionally, MNGL will be studied in comparison with similar brands and competitors to gain deeper insights. The final deliverable will be a research document outlining visitor profiles, their key needs, benchmark visuals, and a mapped user journey in relation to the space. Concept design will commence once all necessary inputs—such as product details, branding guidelines, communication materials, and timelines—are received from the client.

STAGE 3 – CONCEPT DESIGN

This phase focuses on conceptualizing and finalizing the design concept for MNGL's Retail Visual Identity (RVI) across urban and highway markets. Firm will develop three distinct design concepts each for urban and highway markets, incorporating modular, scalable, and sustainable features using modern materials. These concepts will include architectural branding details such as plans, elevations, and lighting arrangements aligned with industry standards. Presentations will be made to MNGL's management, showcasing the design philosophy and inspirations behind each concept, leading to the selection of one for further detailing. The design will cover various utilities based on station type, including air/nitrogen facilities, PUC kiosks, customer lounges, service kiosks, food kiosks, sales rooms, and branding for different vehicle types. Uniforms for MNGL employees and customer care offices will also be considered. The finalized concept will include a complete layout, visitor journey mapping, key zones, new amenities, and themed graphic elements. Information panels will be designed for each zone. Deliverables include a detailed concept design document with 3D visualizations and a 3D animated walkthrough of the highway outlet showcasing the full layout and branding elements.

Deliverable: Scaled Model for urban & highway (approx. 4 feet X 4 feet): Develop scaled model of all RVI elements (scale shall be decided in discussion with MNGL) with the selected concept to show look and feel and overall appearance of the brand entities.
